Council takes crack at fireworks ban

Chad Ingram
 Staff reporter

Minden Hills councillors discussed how they will go about regulating fireworks use in the township during their Oct. 11 meeting.

Bylaw officer Colin McKnight presented council with a draft of the township's noise bylaw that had been revised to include restrictions on fireworks.

"No person shall cause or permit the discharge of fireworks," the bylaw read, with exceptions being Canada Day, Victoria Day and Labour Day weekends and New Year's Day.

For the three holiday weekends, the bylaw read fireworks not be discharged "between the hours of 10 p.m. or dusk to 6 a.m." and not between 1 and 6 a.m. on New Year's.

"I think we're getting too loose if we're allowing it on every long weekend," Councillor Ken Redpath said, suggesting that fireworks only be permitted for Victoria Day and Canada Day.

Redpath also wants to see restrictions on the sale of fireworks at Minden Hills businesses and said the township would need to interact with business owners in order to minimize impact to them.

Councillor Brigitte Gall wanted a fireworks bylaw separate from the township's larger noise

Johnson reflects on McGuinty resignation

Lisa Gervais
Special to the Times

Former Liberal MPP Rick Johnson was part of a “very historic day” at Queen’s Park on Monday.

He was working in his new capacity as executive assistant of the government caucus office when Premier Dalton McGuinty announced his resignation as party leader.

He said he was working in his office just down the hall from the day’s caucus meeting and watched as preparations were made for a live television broadcast. He said there were “a few little clues throughout the day” but “it was a surprise.”

A family man himself, he said he respected McGuinty’s family reasons for leaving.

He added that the minority government had been “a frustrating time” particularly in the last six weeks when he said house relations had deteriorated and “respect from opposition benches was out the window.”

Asked about the scandal involving McGuinty’s cancellation of two natural gas plants allegedly to save two Liberal seats prior to the last election, Johnson said all three parties had promised to move the plants if elected.

He accused the Opposition of hypocrisy.

He said statements that the cost of cancelling the plants would be $1 billion were “crazy.”

The government has admitted to hundreds of millions.

Johnson said the decision to prorogue was not unique in Canadian parliamentary tradition.

Parliament wasn’t working, he said, giving the example of the Progressive Conservatives who would talk for five minutes and then make noise for half an hour.

“If opposition parties are refusing to do anything, everything just gets stalled.”

This would be an opportunity to “take a breath, refocus and see if there are any areas of common ground,” Johnson said.

He said McGuinty had accomplished much in his tenure, citing improvements in education and health care. “We have seen huge changes in the number of graduates and the success of full-day kindergarten,” he said.

MPP Laurie Scott was also “shocked” but said Parliament should not be prorogued.

The resignation stems from McGuinty’s inability to handle a minority government and the plant scandal, Scott asserted.

“He’s bolting because of the power plant scandal and what the documents are going to show,” she said.

She said the PCs had been pushing for documents on the cancelled plants, and only last Friday it was announced that thousands more had emerged, Scott said.

“It is scandalous. It was done for political reasons, to save seats. Now he bolts and they can hide.”

She said there are important issues to be discussed, including the power plant scandal, public sector wage freezes and the state of the economy and is worried the legislature may not resume until the spring.

“People of Ontario deserve better.”

Scott disagrees with Johnson’s assessment of McGuinty’s legacy, citing scandals such as eHealth, Ornge and green energy problems as well as unsustainable debt and deficits.

“It’s time for a new era,” she said.

Bylaw enforcement one consideration in potential ban

bylaw and said in some municipalities, businesses are only allowed to sell fireworks for a certain number of days leading up to a holiday.

Both Redpath and Councillor Jean Neville expressed concern about that the cutoff time of 10 p.m. for lighting fireworks on holidays was too early.

“In the summer, it’s still light at 10,” Neville said.

To simplify the issue, Reeve Barb Reid suggested the bylaw just state that fireworks are banned except for certain days.

There was considerable conversation about how the bylaw would be enforced.

“I’m not sure how you prove that someone did something in the middle of the night,” said Councillor Lisa Schell.

Neville suggested it might require hiring bylaw personnel to work some night shifts until people get the hint.

McKnight said this would mean sending people in pairs, since sending a lone bylaw officer to a nighttime party could pose a safety risk.

Councillors seemed interested in the idea.

Gall suggested that a large fine be set for violation and Redpath and Councillor Larry Clarke both said the existence of the bylaw alone might be enough to deter some.

“If there’s no bylaw, it’s OK . . . if there’s a bylaw, it’s not OK,” Redpath said.

Councillors also requested a full review of the township’s noise bylaw.

Gall, who’s repeatedly called the bylaw vague, said she’d like to see a more concrete definition of “unnecessary noise” and Reid said she’d like to see breakdown of categories of noise, including that from boat motors.

The reeve said this summer there were numerous complaints about a particular boat model and suggested some research be done on appropriate decibel levels.

Chief administrative officer Nancy Wright-Laking said the noise bylaw would be put on the department’s work plan for 2013.

In the meantime, McKnight will continue to work on the fireworks bylaw, which council hopes to have ready to go for May.

Saving the Ontario Youth Rangers

Chad Ingram
Staff reporter

Minden Hills council will be sending a letter to the provincial government, asking it to reconsider its decision to terminate the Ontario Youth Rangers program.

The program, nearly 70 years old, employs youth throughout Ontario during the summer months to assist with Ministry of Natural Resources work.

It was also designed to foster a love of nature and an understanding of community-building in its participants.

It is being terminated as part of sweeping cuts at the MNR.

At their Oct. 11 committee-of-the-whole meeting, councillors were visited by Jaclyn Brown, a former ranger who's gone on to become an assistant sub-supervisor with the program.

"I do not believe I would be the same person without this program," Brown, who is a third-year ecological restoration student at Peterborough's Trent University, told councillors.

Brown said the termination of the program will have direct effects for Minden Hills and the rest of Haliburton County.

The rangers have assisted the MNR with fishery activities on Boshkung Lake and worked with Lochlin resident Don Wright on his property, which contains the ecologically significant Lochlin esker and is used for educational purposes.

"Don Wright is a great advocate for education in Minden Hills," Brown said.

For the past 20 years, the rangers have worked in partnership with the Kinark Outdoor Centre, doing all kinds of environmental work.

An example of a recent project was the repair of an eroding hill on the property.

The rangers have also helped create the trail systems in the county.

"If you've ever walked through trails in Algonquin Highlands, it's partly because of the Ontario Ranger Program," Brown said.

— Jaclyn Brown

The province is accepting correspondence until Nov. 7 and Brown asked councillors to help in her quest to save the program by writing a letter to the province, asking that the decision to end the program be revisited.

"This is not for me," she said. "This is for future generations."

It was an easy decision for councillors, who were clearly impressed by Brown's presentation.

Reeve Barb Reid said it was clear the program had a positive impact on the area and the young people it enrolls.

"You're going to be the stewards," Reid said.

The reeve suggested that Brown contact Algonquin Highlands as well.

Councillor Larry Clarke was in support, liked the importance of community-based learning and suggested that Brown get in touch with the U-Links Centre for Community-Based Research.

Councillor Brigitte Gall said she also had additional contacts for Brown.

Councillor Jean Neville said the termination of the program was a move by a provincial government that "has absolutely no regard for anybody living north of [Highway] 7. We really have to start making a statement."

Townships pay more than $7,000 to send councillors to conference

Chad Ingram
Staff reporter

Combined, it cost the County of Haliburton and the Township of Minden Hills just more than $7,000 to send councillors to this year's Association of Municipalities conference in Ottawa.

The annual conference offers a number of seminars, workshops and networking opportunities for municipal councillors and staffers and this year's event, held Aug. 19 to 21, attracted some 1,600 municipal leaders.

Expenses for Dysart el at Reeve Murray Fearrey, Minden Hills Reeve Barb Reid and Algonquin Highlands Deputy-reeve Liz Danielsen were covered by the county.

Fearrey claimed approximately $635 in registration costs; $280 in accommodation; $70 for meals; and $215 for mileage for a total of just more than $1,200.

Reid spent approximately $570 on registration fees; $980 on accommodation and $200 on meals for total of just more than $1,740.

Danielsen claimed approximately $635 in registration fees; $870 for accommodation; $120 for meals; and $170 in mileage for a total of about $1,790.

Redpath claimed approximately $630 for registration; $1,000 for four nights' accommodation; $370 in mileage; $100 for parking; $200 for meals and $65 for telephone and Internet for a total of just more than $2,400.

His expenses were covered by Minden Hills.

Enforcing property standards

Chad Ingram
Staff reporter

The following are brief reports of items discussed during an Oct. 11 Minden Hills committee-of-the-whole meeting.

For the first time, the township is clearing material off a property deemed unsightly according to the property standards bylaw.

That bylaw was passed in July of 2011.

"I think that's a real milestone for your department," Reeve Barb Reid said to bylaw officer Colin McKnight. "We've actually had our first cleanup that will be billed to the property owner on the tax bill."

Councillor Brigitte Gall asked if there'd be any confrontation and McKnight said no.

The clean up is ongoing.

"What happens to all of this person's possessions?" Reid asked.

Since the items, including motor homes and other vehicles are mostly metal, McKnight said they are being taken to the scrap yard.

Profits will be used to pay the contractor for the haul-away and any money left over will be put as a credit on the property owner's tax bill.

Repairing rental property

Councillors will award a $13,500 contract to Peterborough-based company WinMar for numerous repairs to the rental home the township owns at 2 Prince St.

The money will come from the property maintenance budget.

Reeve Barb Reid noted there is a need for affordable housing in the community and that the house helps to fill this void.

Environmental and property operations manager Chris Voth said he's already been approached by numerous people interested in renting the house.

The township collects about $7,500 a year in rent.

HATVA gets a hand

The township will be transferring $9,000 from reserves to the Haliburton ATV Association.

The money comes from the 2010 surplus and is an unused portion of $25,000 that council originally allotted for the township snowmobile trail revitalization project.

The association will use the money for work on the South Lake trail, which is the main connection between Minden proper and the Rail Trail.

Amending the yard sale bylaw

Council will be making amendments to the township's yard sale bylaw.

The bylaw dictates that no person or householder at a specific address can hold a yard sale longer than three consecutive days and that no person or householder can have more than two yard sales a year.

The bylaw also stipulates that no one can interfere with bylaw officers enforcing the bylaw.

Violating any part of the bylaw results in a $250 fine.

Fire destroys workshop

Chad Ingram
Staff reporter

A Davis Lake workshop was destroyed by fire on Wednesday, Oct. 10.

Minden Hills fire chief Doug Schell said his department got the call around 2 p.m. and was on site for some two and a half hours.

The workshop/garage was not salvageable.

"It was completely destroyed," Schell said.

The residents were home at the time and uninjured.

They'd called the fire department after noticing smoke in the building.

Schell estimated the value of the building at between $30,000 and $40,000.

"Plus there was the contents on top of that," he said.

It was the first structure fire the Minden Hills department has responded to since spring, despite a dry summer with a month-long fire ban.

"It was a pretty quiet summer," Schell said.

Subjectivity

THIS MAY COME as a shock, but I am a political nerd.

And while the action in the federal and provincial legislatures may be more high-profile and far-reaching than the conversations that take place in municipal council chambers, I would argue local political conversations can be just as interesting.

Well, at least pretty close.

No, I'm not joking.

This can be particularly true when conversation around the council table veers into vague areas.

There were two such examples during a Minden Hills committee-of-the-whole meeting last week.

One was the conversation around the creation of a bylaw to limit the use of fireworks within the township.

There have been numerous complaints from residents about fireworks going off at any time of day on any day during the summer months and councillors are considering restricting use to certain days of the year.

This conjures up a plethora of questions. Which days? How late? Is it appropriate for the township to limit sales of fireworks by local businesses?

These are tricky questions with no clear answers. The answers to these questions are different for everybody.

There's also the question of whether council should be instituting any bylaw at all.

Shouldn't people be able to have a good time? Enjoy their properties, on which they pay taxes?

Personally, I know that my dorm-room-dwelling, philosophy-reading, 18-year-old self would have decried such a bylaw, calling it an infringement on personal rights by the state.

My crotchety, 29-year-old self, however, is more amenable to the idea.

Late-night fireworks keep me up when I'm at the cottage.

Council also registered that for the first time, under the township's property standards bylaw, junk was being forcefully removed from someone's lawn.

The conversation around this bylaw took place last spring, but the same subjective questions arose.

What is unsightly? Does it mean a fleet of rotting school buses? And at what point does the township intervene?

If I want to build a 12-metre golden statue of myself in my backyard, is that OK?

Watching councillors hash out decisions in these sorts of grey areas can be really interesting.

So, in conclusion . . . I'm not sure.

Have I really said anything with this column?

It's all subjective.

Terry Fox Run a huge success

To the Editor,

Another year has come and once again I marvel at this great community that we live in called Minden. The 2012 edition of the Minden Terry Fox Run is in the books and once again it was a great one. I have reported around $12,600 to the provincial foundation office but do know of a large donation of $2,000 that will be credited to our run by a very special family.

I would like to thank the following businesses for their contribution of goods/services and without them we would have no run.

Thanks to Dollo's Foodland, Minden Valumart, Todd's Independent, Minden Mercantile and Feed Store, Haliburton Foodland, Kawartha Dairy, Minden Fruit and Vegetable Market, Minden Pharmasave, Minden V & S, Minden Water Depot, Rick Lowes and Moose FM, Gavin McKnight from Coke, Greg Phippen, Shepherd's Environmental Services, Township of Minden Hills, Minden Home Hardware, Minden Lions Club, County Sign and Display, Minden Times, The Highlander, Pet Tyme, Paulmacs and the Minden Rotary Club for sponsoring our raffle.

Thanks also to the following who contributed to our silent auction once again this year: Cody Hodgson of the Buffalo Sabres, Matt Duchene of the Colorado Avalanche, figure skater Kurt Browning, Beaverbrook Golf Course, Bonnie View Inn, Buttermilk Falls Resort, Canadian Tire - Minden, Carey's Garden Centre, Carquest, Godfather's Pizza, GP Tires Plus, Gravity House, Haliburton County Public Library, Haliburton Driving Range, Haliburton Golf Course, Haliburton Home Hardware, Lakeside Golf Course, Little Bit of Everything, Millpond Restaurant, Minden Florist, Minden Home Hardware, Minden Pharmasave, Molly's Bistro Bakery, Outdoors Plus, Peppermill Restaurant, Ridgewood Ford, Haliburton Sears, Minden Sears, Sew Be It Minden Subaru, Sunny Rock Bed & Breakfast, That Place In Carnarvon, Wintergreen Maple Syrup Products, Wild Orchid, Robin Carmount, Kyla Grexton, Cammy George, Marjorie Cowen, Heather Seabrooke, Luke Schell, Kyla Grexton, Soy Good Candles, Dave Millington, Laurie Cormier, Bruce Down and Caitlin Peacock.

Publicists, you're slipping....

J-LO'S RECENT NIPPLE slip got me thinking – as most nipple slips are apt to do.

Before I divulge my deep thoughts, however, I would like to extend my condolences to Ms. Lopez. As someone who has recently endured a nipple slip of my own, I know how traumatizing this can be.

I won't go on about my nip slip – no doubt you've probably heard about it already. Suffice it to say, I would like to apologize to anyone at the landfill site who witnessed it. I realize now that I should have dressed more appropriately. That gown was not designed for use around the recycling bins. Hence the awkward malfunction.

I have done some research regarding the history of nipple slips. (On a side note, for the first time ever I had no problem recruiting a research assistant for one of my columns too. My buddy Tom says he'll work pro bono on this one.)

As Tom so ably pointed out, these days, it appears that you have no chance of moving up in celebrity status if you do not eventually have a well-publicized nipple slip.

The issue as I see it is that they are now so common that they have lost all shock appeal. Witness the fact that I just returned from town and no one but me was talking about mine.

Unfortunately, if these incidents are going to remain the attention getters that they once were, they are going to have to move with the times.

It's time for celebrities to up their game. The next generation of nipple-slip, I suspect, should be the double-slip.

Steve Galea
Beyond 35

The way I see it, on the low technological end, this could be achieved with high-priced clothing that is even more shoddily made. I'm thinking with spaghetti straps actually made out of spaghetti.

On the high tech end of things, designers might want to consider creating outfits with spring-loaded breast cups that launch on demand. That way, the wearer can create slips at a moment's notice, when all the cameras are rolling.

Yes, if celebrities are going to take advantage of this incredible publicity opportunity, nipple slip technology is going to have to move forward. We can no longer rely on happenstance to show the world that we celebrities are human and our nipples sometimes slip in highly public situations – like the landfill site. (Am I to assume that no one took even one photo?)

I'm sure that my work in this field will one day be recognized by some special Nobel Prize for the arts. Maybe future publicists might even refer to me as The Father of the Double Nip Slip. But that's neither here nor there.

For the time being, I'll do my best to keep you all informed. Partly because I care deeply about our celebrities, but mostly because Tom is not finished his research yet.

The new Puritanism

*Sticks and stones may break my bones, but words will surely kill me.
An old adage, updated*

WAY OUT HERE on Sapsucker Ridge, we are always late getting the news and then The Brown Dog Jiggs has to puzzle over it for a week or so before he explains to me what it means.

Jiggs was so long analyzing the biggest Canadian story of 2012, the Escobar Eye Black, that I almost forgot about it until last week, when an English soccer player got it in the neck for speaking out of a turn.

In Toronto, The Court of Public Opinion gave unanimous consent to tarring and feathering Yunel Escobar and then riding him out of town on a rail.

Evidently all of The Big Smoke was mortified by the anti-gay slur engraved in the lamp black under the Blue Jay shortstop's eyes. Strong men wept at words so tiny that only the lug who photographed them could make them out.

Besides, they were in Spanish, and those who knew the language could not agree on a literal translation. No matter. This was the worst thing that had ever happened in Toronto and certainly a hate crime.

Still, it was not so much of a hate crime that the busybody photographer or the drum-beating reporters and talk-show hosts could be charged with being accessories after the fact for spreading the word.

Once upon a time, in English Common Law, verbal abuse was not regarded as an assault. You had to accompany an insult with a punch in the snout to cross over the legal line.

Now hate laws protect tender feelings everywhere. You almost need to consult a lawyer before you speak. Or before you write a column. Jiggs has the best policy – just listen.

This is not to defend true hate crimes. None of us should suffer for our race, religion or sexual inclinations, but when we try to police speech, we wade into a swamp.

Anybody not living in solitary confinement hears offensive remarks every day. A hypocrite checks a room for skin colour, declares "We're all friends here," and tells a racist joke.

Though Escobar, a Latin American in a North American world, was performing on a public stage, he must not have expected his slur to be noticed, or understood that his words would be the making of the careers of the professionally indignant.

They were a foolish man's thoughtless recitation of a trite taunt, built on ignorance, not venom. A three-game suspension was appropriate; the hysteria that followed was ridiculous. Nothing personal was intended.

In English soccer, a black player delivered a very personal, hurtful commentary, complete with hand gesture, on a famous opponent's philandering.

Instead of taking it like a man – and there's a phrase that will really get me in trouble – his rival responded with a racial epithet. The price of racism – $347,000. The price of a hurtful heterosexual slur – nothing. Not even an issue.

If the black man had raised the ante with a punch in the nose, why, good for him. This happened on a playing field, in the context of a game. Remarks made on playing fields are not public statements, unless we make them so. No wonder we need so many lawyers.

As for Escobar, here is what I expect of you. You should be able to hit the ball, catch the ball, throw the ball. Run the bases. You should be able to go deep in the hole and still throw out the runner.

You should show up every day prepared to do your best. You should work hard to make yourself better. You should not be a disruptive influence in the clubhouse.

That is all I expect of you. I do not know whether Escobar meets those criteria but if he does, the rest of how he lives his life should make no difference. That is how all of us should be judged.

If his flaws, make him less than a hero, so be it. Our heroes, as Charles Barkley said, should be our fathers.

In this social-networked world without privacy, we live with a new Puritanism, a world without tolerance for human failings, a cruel world that hears everything and forgives nothing.

Nobody stoned Yunel Escobar for his eye shadow, or clamped him into a pillory. We're far too subtle for that.

Council debates usefulness of Doors Open

Chad Ingram
Staff reporter

The following are brief reports of items discussed during an Oct. 10 county tourism development committee meeting.

Minden Hills Barb Reid and Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearrey questioned the value of the county continuing to be part of Doors Open Ontario, an annual event where communities invite the public to check out interesting and historic buildings.

The event was first held in the county in 2009 when it took place in Minden Hills. It moved to Dysart et al in 2010, Highlands East in 2011 and Algonquin Highlands this year.

While Reid and Fearrey weren't convinced there was much positive impact, Highlands East Reeve Dave Burton and Algonquin Highlands Reeve Carol Moffatt said their townships had seen direct benefit.

Moffatt said during the September weekend the event took place this year, she heard that accommodations in the county were hard to come by.

Algonquin Highlands council had been pleased by the turnout.

Previous events had taken place in the spring.

Moffatt said holding Doors Open in the fall was a great opportunity to capitalize on the colourful foliage and noted a number of publications had reported the county as having the best colours in the province this year.

The event will come back to Minden Hills next year.

"I think we should try it again in Minden Hills, but in September," Reid said.

County passes secret shopper test

The county's tourism department made the grade when a secret shopper from the Ontario's Highlands Tourism Organization visited the Highway 35 information centre in August.

"Our department passed with flying colours," tourism coordinator Maria Micallef told councillors.

The county earned an overall grade of 95 per cent, losing points for the quality of the parking lot and not inviting the guest back.

Micallef said only 16 of the 23 regions that were secretly shopped received a passing grade.

Minden Hills Reeve Barb Reid was disappointed the secret shopper had not checked the washroom, an important asset for any facility that welcomes the public.

"To me, that was an absolute miss," Reid said.

Destination Guide update

Janis Parker of Parker Pad & Printing Ltd. gave councillors a brief update on the 2013 county destination guide.

The guide will use a wide, horizontal format that won't accommodate a county map.

However, Parker is planning to put a pocket in the back that will contain a folded map and will be able to store other maps, brochures and paper materials.

It'll be another reason for visitors to hang onto their guides, Parker said, "because you've now got all kinds of paperwork in it."

The guide is expected to be printed in early 2013.

County to launch photo contest for website

Chad Ingram
Staff reporter

The county will be launching a photo contest as it creates a new tourism website.

At an Oct. 10 tourism development committee meeting, Algonquin Highlands Reeve Carol Moffatt, who sits on the steering committee for the new site, said the group had held its first meeting with Faren Group Inc., the Vaughan-based company that's been hired to do the revamp.

"We did talk about a need for photography," Moffatt said, explaining the county would require a number of stock photos.

User agreements have yet to be finalized.

The winning photograph will be featured prominently on the new site and, if the winner is a professional photographer, a link to that person's website will likely appear.

The county is paying Faren $25,700 plus taxes for the project, which is expected to be completed in early 2013.

The county is also redesigning its bureaucratic website, with that work being done in-house.

Travel the world at this year's film fest

Those Other Movies announced the line-up for the sixth annual Haliburton Highlands International Film Festival, Nov. 2 to 4 at the Northern Lights Pavilion in Haliburton. Travel the world in three days sitting in on stories from Finland, Iran, Mongolia, New Zealand, Quebec, South Korea, United States and back home again.

It all starts on Friday, Nov. 2 at 7 p.m. with the hilarious Jack Black in Bernie, a true-crime story that "happens to be laugh out loud funny, enthralling, profoundly sad, and ultimately one of the year's best films," The Aristocrat states in a review.

Then at 9:15 p.m. they continue the tradition of showing the Academy Award winning Best Foreign Language Film in this time slot. A Separation is a dynamic drama that infuses "great insight into modern Iran with a powerful insight into the human condition," says Blake Howard of 2UE That Movie Show. Subtitles.

Saturday morning at 10 a.m., we change landscapes and pacing and open up in the Gobi desert for The Story of the Weeping Camel. It follows a nomadic family in Mongolia that faces a problem when a white camel colt is born in a difficult delivery and the mother rejects it. It is "a simple and radiant piece of humanism," says Peter Rainer of New York Magazine, that must be seen. Subtitles.

At 1 p.m., they head to South Korea for Poetry. Never before have the crimes of the young, the trials of the old, and the lone individual fighting for truth and decency come together in a way that is so "entirely unsentimental and poetic," writes Derek Malcolm of the Evening Standard. Subtitles.

Le Havre, at 4 p.m., takes us to a French harbor city where a Bohemian shoe shiner stands up to officials doggedly pursuing a young African boy for deportation. "There's something extremely pure about this simple yet beautiful film in which ordinary people do extraordinary things," says Louise Keller of Urban Cinefile. Subtitles.

Love is what makes the world go around and Café de Flore, at 7 p.m., is about its many forms: euphoric, obsessive, tragic, youthful and timeless. The story of a young mother with a disabled son in 1960s Paris is paralleled with a recently divorced, successful DJ in present day Montreal. "Simply a beautiful, intricate film," writes Guy Dixon of the Globe and Mail. Subtitles.

Sunday starts at 10 a.m. with a hilarious movie set on the east coast of New Zealand in the year 1984. Boy, an 11-year-old kid and devout Michael Jackson fan gets a chance to know his father ... who turns out to be an incompetent hoodlum.

At 11:30 a.m. there is an opportunity to rediscover the world of short features. They have been hand-picked for your enjoyment.

At 2 p.m. local filmmaker, Christopher King presents a short discussion about the industry.

From all corners of the world to The Land Between at 3:30 p.m. sees the Haliburton debut of the documentary feature film that explores our evolving relationship with the biologically and geologically diverse region between the Canadian Shield and the St. Lawrence Lowlands in Ontario. Free admission.

Clockwise from left, Le Havre, Boy and Poetry will all play at this year's Haliburton International Film Festival. The festival will begin on Friday, Nov. 2 at the Northern Lights Performing Arts Pavilion.

HIFF VIP Passes are just $42 and give holders admission to all festival events, including Saturday night's Gala reception. Available at the door or by emailing Roberta at roberta@first-page-seo.com, passes are transferable to friends or family. All films will be screened at the Northern Lights Pavilion in the Haliburton Highlands High School, 5358 County Road 21, Haliburton, Ontario, K0M 1S0.

Individual tickets are $8 and will be available at the door.

Saturday's gala reception is at 9:30 p.m. at Hali's Bistro and includes appetizers and one drink ticket. Non-pass holders can join in on the fun for $10.

Refreshments will be provided at the theatre by the Haliburton Highlands Grannies with all proceeds going to the Stephen Lewis Foundation.

Postcard campaign brings light to adults' dental issues

Hundreds of signed "dental" postcards depicting a far-from-perfect scene in Ontario have been delivered to this area's MPP requesting support for adults with severe dental problems.

More than 900 signed "dental" postcards collected from across the area – including 200 signed postcards from Haliburton County – were delivered recently to Haliburton-Kawartha Lakes-Brock MPP Laurie Scott. The postcards urge the Ontario government to expand financial support programs to include adults and seniors who cannot afford basic dental treatment. Currently, OHIP pays to treat pain and infection in every part of the body, except the mouth. This means many adults in Haliburton County and across Ontario suffer with pain and infection from poor oral health because they cannot afford to get regular dental treatment. High costs and a lack of dental insurance are some of the main barriers to care.

"We're really pleased at the support people in Haliburton County and across the area have shown by signing the postcards and asking the province to fill a serious gap in our health-care system," says Anna Rusak, a health promoter with the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit. "This is the message we provided to MPP Scott last week when we met her. The meeting went very well, and she agreed to take our campaign message and the signed postcards forward to the Ontario legislature."

Haliburton County FoodNet, Haliburton County Public Library and other local groups were among those that circulated the dental postcards in this area as part of a province-wide advocacy campaign organized by the Ontario Oral Health Alliance. The alliance was formed in 2007 to unite the voices of those who advocate for better access to oral health. Thousands of the signed postcards have been collected across Ontario and are simultaneously being delivered this fall to Members of Provincial Parliament advocating for action.

In advocating for better access to dental care, the campaign's postcard featured photos of five real Ontarians with severe dental problems smiling through gritted teeth. A caption below the pictures read: 'Why am I living with pain and infection?'

As far back as 2008, the provincial government committed to developing a program to pay dental costs for low-income families. Financial assistance programs were created or expanded, but only to cover dental treatment for children from low-income families – not adults. The result is that Ontario adults with severe dental problems who are unable to pay for care often have few options but to visit hospital emergency rooms to get painkillers or antibiotics to help them cope with the discomfort.

"This is a Band-Aid solution which is far from the best use of our limited health-care dollars," says Rosie Kadwell, chairperson of Haliburton County FoodNet, and a public health dietitian with the HKPR District Health Unit. "If we can fix and then prevent serious dental problems like severe toothaches and infection, we are saving money in the long run."

A strategic investment in financial-support programs that cover the costs of treatment for Ontario adults with severe dental problems would pay off in other ways, she adds. Research shows that poor oral health can lead to other health problems in a person down the road. People with poor oral health can also suffer from low self-esteem and lack of confidence, making it more difficult for them to find and maintain meaningful employment. "There are many benefits and cost-savings to be generated by improving access to dental care," Kadwell says.

Local statistics show there is a need to fill the gap in dental care. The Volunteer Dental Outreach for Haliburton County was started by volunteers to provide free dental care for local residents who required urgent treatment. Since May 2011, the clinic has helped 240 patients by providing more than $376,851 in free dental treatment over 1,031 appointments. However, the clinic can't keep up with demand and currently has a waiting list of 62 people.

Local residents can get more details about the work

Signed dental postcards advocating improved support programs for adults were presented recently to MPP Laurie Scott, centre.

Reads of the week

Book of the Week

Coppermine by Keith Ross Leckie

Part epic adventure, part romance, and part true-crime thriller, Coppermine is a dramatic, compelling, character-driven story set in 1917 in the extremes of Canada's far north and the boom town of Edmonton. Set against the harsh climate of the Arctic and Inuit culture of good and evil spirits, Corporal Creed, of the Royal West Mounted Police, sets out on a yearlong journey with an Inuit translator, Angituk. Their mission was to investigate the disappearance of two Catholic priests. Corporal Creed eventually finds two Inuit hunters, Sinnisiak and Uluksuk, who are taken into custody to answer for the crime. He brings the two accused back to Edmonton for a show trial. However, the jury is not the only one that has to make a decision as Corporal Creed also faces a decision of the heart. You can reserve Coppermine today at the Haliburton County Public Library.

Junior Book of the Week Young Adult Title

The Raven Boys by Maggie Stiefvater

For as long as Blue Sargent can remember, she's been told that her true love will die after they kiss. Born into a family of psychics, but lacking clairvoyance herself, Blue understands that this prediction cannot be taken lightly. As a result, dating boys has never been of her top priorities. Especially not boys who attend the elite Aglionby Academy; known as raven boys, they are recognized as arrogant snobs, ruined by their lives of privilege. But when Blue sees the ghost of a raven boy on St. Mark's Eve – the day on which spirits of those who will die in the next 12 months walk the earth – she feels drawn to his presence. And when she meets this doomed boy, and his close friends, she cannot help but become a part of their lives. Tempting the fates, Blue and her raven boys embark on a life altering quest. A thrilling read, The Raven Boys by Maggie Stiefvater is able to reserve from your library.

Local Celebrity Read:

Jamie Bilodeau, library assistant at the Haliburton County Public Library, read and loved The Chimps of Fauna Sanctuary by Andrew Westoll, a book about a Montreal-based sanctuary for chimps that have been retired from biomedical research.

"I have always loved the great apes and the cover of this book hit me like a brick in the chest," says Bilodeau. "Upon further reading, and my second box of tissue, I realized this is not a book about the horrible treatment of these chimps but rather a book about their recovery, and a woman who risked it all to provide them with choices, safety and, above all, a voice. Andrew Westoll introduces us to a family not unlike our own families. Chimpanzees are more closely related to humans than they are to gorillas – that's something to ponder."

J.P. Cormier plays Dominion

On the evening of Oct. 21, lovers of Canadian folk music will have an opportunity to see and hear the legendary J.P. Cormier. The Haliburton County Folk Society was fortunate to catch Cormier on his way back from the end of what he is calling his last tour. He is touring in support of a new recording titled Somewhere in the Back of My Heart, his first since recovering from an accident that severely damaged his spine.

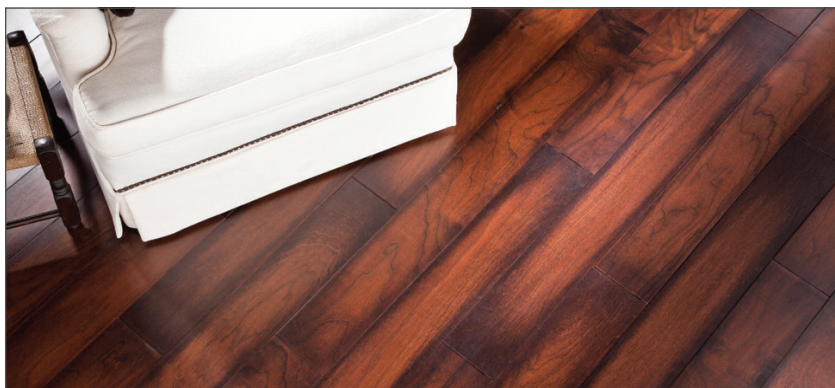

Though not a household name, he is known in the business as a singer, songwriter, multi-instrumentalist, producer, recording, artist, teacher, collaborator, innovator and award winner. He is considered a musical genius, able to play any stringed instrument. He is mainly known for his beautiful guitar work, but his fiddle and banjo work is also outstanding and award winning.

Since recording his first album at age 16, and subsequently leaving Nova Scotia to follow his career to the United States, Cormier has produced 14 solo albums, won 12 East Coast Music Awards, a Canadian Folk Music Award, performed at the Grand Old Opry more than 20 times and has been invited to every major folk and acoustic festival in Canada and several throughout the world. Additionally, he spent 10 years in Nashville as a session musician.

Fans of the writing traditions of Stan Rogers and Gordon Lightfoot tend to see J.P. Cormier as a songwriter, even before a multi-instrumentalist. Cormier will be performing with longtime band member Bill Elliott on Sunday, Oct. 21 at the Dominion Hotel in Minden. Show time is an early 7 p.m. Tickets are available at the Photo Shop in Haliburton, the Organic Times in Minden or online at Madeinhaliburton.ca. Further information can be found at haliburtonfolk.com.

THE QUILT: A MATERIAL WITNESS EXHIBITION LECTURE

By Minden Hills Museum Curator
 Darren Levstek

When we think of the quilt it is often in terms of a decorative art or the blanket handed down to us by our ancestors; but before the blanket came the stitch. The stitching style known as the quilt has been a witness to history for nearly 5000 years. This lecture discusses quilting history from the time it was used to form armour for knights to its use in the Underground Railroad as a means of aiding the escape of American slaves.

Storm rain on Grizzlies at Matt Duchene tournament

Darren Lum Staff

Novice Storm muffles Thunder

On Saturday, Oct. 13 the Highland Storm Novice played their first away game travelling to Port Carling to face the "Thunder." The Storm got on the board quick with three goals in the first period. First goal: Hunter Winder assisted by goaltender Damon Harriss. Second goal: Nick Phippen assisted by Kyan Hall and Ty Mills. Third goal: Phippen assisted by Matthew Vargas and Ryan Rupnow, giving the Storm a 3-1 lead going into the second period.

Hunter Winder scored the fourth goal unassisted within the first 16 seconds of the second period. Hall scored the fifth goal (his first goal of the season) assisted by Phippen and Colin Glecoff. It was now 5-2 going into the third.

Phippen started off the third period with his third goal of the game (giving him his second hat trick of the season) assisted by Hall and Gage Hutchinson, making it 6-2. With two minutes 33 seconds left in the game Phippen scores his fourth and final goal of the game assisted by Winder, making it a 7-4 win for the STORM! The Storm carry a 3-0 record going into this coming weekend with games against Port Carling and Parry Sound.

Pee wee A team wins Duchene tournament

Congratulations to the Highland Storm Pee wee As who won the Matt Duchene Classic hockey tournament over the weekend! Solid starts in all three round robin games showed the other teams that the Storm were the team to beat. The squad won all three games 3-1 as they rolled through Centre Hastings, Innisfil and Mariposa to earn a spot in the semi-finals against Woodville on Sunday in Wilberforce. In the semi-final the team's skill was on full display and they easily defeated Woodville 7-0 on goals by Alex Petrie, Devyn Prentice, Carter O'Neill, Josh Boice and a hat trick by Kyle Cooper. It was an impressive effort and showed that the boys were here to win. In the final the Storm faced Centre Hastings; the team they first faced in the round robin. It was another solid effort as they won 3-2 on goals by Prentice, Ben Schmidt and Boice. This team is coming together nicely under coaches Barry Boice and Jim O'Neill and they look forward to their next tournament in Bracebridge in a couple of weeks.

Special thanks to convenor Kim O'Neill for her long hours of dedication to the tournament and Andrea Prentice for organizing the prize tables. The team is proudly sponsored by Smolen Dentistry.

Congratulations, boys!

From last week's games:

Atom As hosted a double header against Parry Sound

Game 1: With great line passing, Carter Bull passes to Ben MacNaull for our first goal. Quickly Parry Sound tried to answer with a goal, only to be shut down by goaltender Dylan Keefer. Working together the team scores another by Alex Little. Never giving up we lost 5-2.

Game 2: After a few hours to rest, we stepped out on the ice determined. Cole Prentice fires on the net, with a quick rebound from Ethan Glecoff to put us on the board. Just minutes after Isaac Little passes to MacNaull for another point. Passing the puck and moving it back down the ice Nigel Smith gets our third goal. Period 2 the team was not willing to let up any pressure. Paul Turner makes a great pass to Zack Morrisette - goal. As the crowd is cheering, Nigel gains control of the puck and scores another for the team!

The puck is dropped in the third. With Parry Sound still applying pressure, Joe Boice battles for the puck, passes to Miki Butka for a goal. Parry Sound answers with a goal, only to have Boice score another for the team. Our last goal of the game, but no less important goes to Morrisette. Unstoppable goaltending by Dylan Keefer paired with determination, dedication, and hard work by all we resulted in our first win (7-4) of the season.

Hawks field hockey takes flight

Darren Lum Staff

Red Hawks varsity B forward Jacky Davis, far right, pushes the ball into the North Hastings High School zone during the annual Turkey Tournament at HHSS on Tuesday, Oct. 9. Red Hawks Sydney Feir's lone goal helped give HHSS a tie with NHHS, who were undefeated (2-1-0) in the tournament for first in the exhibition event.

Red Hawks roll over expansion team

Darren Lum
Staff reporter

Before the first minute it was all but over for the visiting Lakefield District Secondary School Tigers, as the Red Hawks junior football team took full advantage of the newest program in the Kawartha Football League.

The Tigers were reeling and appeared shell shocked after the Red Hawks struck with two touchdowns and a pair of two-point conversions within the first minute.

Obviously there was plenty to cheer about for the Red Hawks faithful, as the home team won 38-6 on the strength of the dominating first half.

Longtime Red Hawks coach Bruce Griffith was a little bewildered by the shift in performance for his team who looked like world beaters in the first quarter and then almost handed the game back in the second half.

"That happens every year in junior. It's all about momentum," he said. "If we hadn't scored all those touchdowns in the first quarter it would have been closer. They could have won it."

He said with a lopsided score early, the Red Hawks coaching staff wanted to get the rookies in for some playing time, but with penalties and a loss of focus this wasn't an option.

Second half defence holds firm for win

On the first play the Highlands fans erupted as Red Hawks slotback Joseph Patrick emerged from the pack after an apparent fumble on the kickoff return during a tackle and ran into the end zone.

The touchdown was scored so quickly it is likely the fastest in the history at the Gary G. Brohman Athletic Field. HHSS quarterback Devon Upton added two more with a pass to a wide open Hunter Smith 8-0.

Patrick, who was also called into a few defensive and special teams' plays, finished with a pair of touchdowns and a two-point convert run.

Without a first down from Lakefield on their first drive, the Red Hawks reclaimed possession inside the visitors end. HHSS continued with its dominance, sending tailback Mac Rider on a 20-plus yard touchdown run for a 14-0 lead. Upton connected again with Smith for two more 16-0.

From inside the 50 yard line, Patrick displayed great speed on the last drive of the first quarter.

Upton handed it off to Patrick who ran past the line of scrimmage and through the secondary untouched to his second score of the game for 22-0. Patrick completed the offensive drive with a run for a successful two-point conversion 24-0.

Not to be outdone, the HHSS defence showed signs of brilliance.

During the subsequent Tigers' offensive drive, linebacker Curtis Ballantyne broke through the Tigers' line and sacked the Lakefield quarterback to cause a fumble.

Alertly, Red Hawks defensive tackle Travis Carroll picked up the loose ball and rumbled several yards before getting tackled inside the Tigers' red zone.

With the first attempt to capitalize on the turnover, HHSS full back Ben Davis ran it in from just outside the five-yard line for a 30-0 lead.

Although the extra-point attempt failed from a high snap, the Red Hawks were poised to win easily.

However the momentum shifted and a pair of costly penalties put the Tigers inside the red zone. They capitalized with a touchdown 30-6.

The extra-point attempt failed. Undeterred the Tigers regained possession with an onside kick when it was mishandled.

Just as the Tigers looked to score again and seize the opportunity of a pass interference call setting them in the Red Hawks' red zone, HHSS ended any miracle comebacks with a timely tackle. Red Hawks linebacker Smith showed alertness in tackling the Tigers' receiver well short of the end zone on the last drive of the half. It ended the Tigers' momentum.

Although the Tigers tightened up the defence in the second half, HHSS helped the opposition as their game deteriorated. Red Hawks penalties didn't help and they enabled the Tigers. It robbed HHSS of any chance to reclaim the momentum from the first quarter.

However the Red Hawks' defence appeared to hold well when the Tigers showed a threat to score.

In the last two minutes HHSS showed its resolve by putting the game away with a defensive touchdown. Red Hawks cornerback Cody Bain stepped up and grabbed a short pass at the midfield. He then ran it in to secure the Red Hawks' third win of the season. Upton, as he did all game, passed to Smith for two more points on the convert.

The Red Hawks improve to 3-1 while the Tigers remain winless through four games in their inaugural campaign after an approximate 40-year absence from football.

Note: Linebacker Hunter Smith showed his offensive skills when he teamed up with Devon Upton for three two-point conversions in the game.

On Friday, Oct. 12, HHSS beat Campbellford 49 - 14. Patrick scored three touchdowns and rushed for 234 yards in the first half. Other players assumed his spot in the second. Braden Roberts, Hunter Smith, Devon Upton and Mac Rider each added a touchdown.

The Red Hawks host the Norwood today at 1:30 p.m. It will decide second place.

Red Hawks route Huskies in exhibition field hockey match

Darren Lum
Staff reporter

The score may not show it, but it was their greatest challenge this season.

It doesn't matter what time of year it is the Red Hawks varsity A field hockey team is always motivated when it comes to the arch rivals from Bancroft, the North Hastings High School Huskies - whether it's an exhibition or championship game.

Both perennial powerhouses, who often face each other in the Central Ontario Secondary School Athletics championships, the two teams squared off in an exhibition game during a steady shower with temperatures just above freezing in Haliburton on Thursday, Oct. 16.

HHSS finished with 4-0 win, but appreciated the challenge, as they gave up four short corners and half a dozen shots, the Red Hawks head coach Caley Sisson said.

"It gives our defence some added pressure. It was good for them to practice and experience that," she said. "It was awesome for [goalkeeper] Jenn [Woolacott] to get some shots on her and she did not disappoint. Jenny played amazing."

These scoring chances resulted in far more scoring challenges than any other game this season, including tournament play.

Sisson isn't taking anything for granted and expects tougher competition when they may face the Huskies in the playoffs.

"This was great for us and a wonderful experience. We're fortunate to have them come over and play us in exhibition. Absolutely, they will be a different team [next time]," she said.

Red Hawks forward Mackenzie Hill started the scoring just minutes into the game 1-0.

Hill was open on the far side of the Huskies goalkeeper and struck on the team's first scoring chance.

A few plays later the Red Hawks struck again.

Forward Sandy Griffith scored (2-0) on a shot after teammate Charlene Hicks, who was in front of the net, had her chance to score taken from her when it was cleared from her by a Huskies defender. The clearing attempt went right to Griffith.

On the next offensive rush Hicks, who was undeterred, rushed the ball and worked it inside causing a melee in front of the Huskies keeper. The Red Hawks forward Tani-sha Gordon struck for the insurance marker 3-0.

The Huskies regrouped and attacked immediately after. Red Hawks goalkeeper Jenn Woolacott stood tall, including a diving save on a second effort.

True to the Huskies never-say-die attitude the game went back and forth. The neutral zone tightened up with both teams exchanging possession. The visitors continued to garner more scoring chances and came close, particularly when a ball got behind Woolacott. Her teammate Jessica Duchene came to her rescue, clearing the ball from the goalline to preserve the shutout.

Hill finished the game and any chance of a comeback for the Huskies when she scored for her second of the game 4-0.

Here at the old farmhouse we, both two and four legged inhabitants, are all creatures of habit each with its own routine. Morning tasks, however, have been slightly reorganized with the purchase of our Keurig coffee maker. No more does the delicious odour of coffee being brewed by early riser Bruce float up the stairwell serving as my 7 a.m. wakeup call. Taffy, Clarence and Jake now wait patiently for their breakfasts as I carefully choose the flavour of the day.

To date the favourite is a President's Choice product from Kinmount Freshmart which by its clever design is compatible with both the two major brands of these single cup appliances. Now if only I could come up with a craft project for the empties.

Congratulations go out to good friends and Kinmount neighbours Bob and Ria Groot on their being awarded the Commodore's Cup by the Pidgeon Lake Yacht Club for the 2012 season. Lifelong sailors and dedicated members they have contributed much to the club's activities supporting both its regular and competitive events. This recognition which came as a welcome surprise is well deserved and much appreciated.

Many local attractions have ended their seasons as of Thanksgiving weekend returning next spring. The Kinmount Farmers Market, the Kinmount Model Railroad and Museum and the Highlands Cinemas and Museum have all welcomed our seasonal visitors and benefited the local economy.

Thank you to Keith Stata for formally announcing his plans to continue the renowned Highlands Cinemas albeit with four rather than the present five theatres. Thankfully this puts to rest the many rumours circulating. With this significant commitment Keith deserves the ongoing support of his moviegoers, both permanent and seasonal residents, and our community at large, which benefits from his theatre patrons who often arrive early in Kinmount and support our other businesses as well.

The Kinmount and District Bursary Fund Committee is pleased to announce the recipients of the 2012/13 Bursary Fund and wish them great success in their studies. Congratulations to Julie Crego, Robert Crober, Carol-Anne Gautreau, Jessica Lang, Meredith March, Megan Pearson, Jesse Silver, Megan Strong and Erika Warren. The committee would like to graciously thank all the donors for their generosity. Stay tuned for news of the annual Kinmount and District Bursary Fund dinner and loonie auction to be held early in 2013.

From Wayne Ferren, sports officer for the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 441 Kinmount, comes an ongoing invitation for new players to join in the darts program at the Branch. The ladies league plays on Mondays at 7:30 p.m. and the mixed league on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. For more details he can be reached at 705-488-1353 while the contact for the new youth league is Tristan at 705-488-1830. The annual dinner and loonie auction opens its doors on Saturday, Oct. 20 at 5 p.m. for the social hour with dinner to follow at 6 p.m. Famed auctioneer Doug will help everyone painlessly part with their cash for a variety of great items.

For ticket information call the branch at 705-488-3462. The following Saturday, Oct. 27 is the annual Hallowe'en dance from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. with prizes for the best costumes and a light lunch included in the admission fee.

Tickets are available in advance or at the door. The monthly book sale by the Friends of the Library for the Kinmount branch will be held this Saturday, Oct. 20 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the lower level of the Branch. Drop by during library hours on Thursdays (11 a.m. to 7 p.m.) and "Expand the World of Literacy" with your child. This new program provides book packages with activities for children to explore.

For adults interested in forming a book club the library can also assist. For information on the programs at the Branch contact librarian Mary Ann Dobsi at 705-488-3199.

Mark your calendars now for the Burnt River United Church Women's annual Christmas Craft Sale on Saturday, Nov. 3 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Burnt River Community Centre. Admission is free but donations for the food bank are much appreciated. Lunch is available and the quilt draw will take place. For table rentals please call Pat at 705-488-3328.

John Barkwell and Joshua Crego, both of Kinmount, were each fined $3,500 for their involvement in abandoning the moose and both received a one-year hunting licence suspension.

Benjamin Crego, also of Kinmount, was fined $1,500 for his part in abandoning the moose. In addition, he received a five-year hunting licence suspension.

The court heard that on Oct. 20, 2011, Leonard Brown shot and killed a small adult cow moose while hunting in Wildlife Management Unit 60.

His hunting party did not have an adult cow moose validation tag. After field dressing the animal, the group elected to abandon the animal in a nearby marsh to avoid detection.

The abandoned moose was found by conservation officers four days later, at which time the meat had spoiled.

Justice of the Peace Carl Young heard the case in the Ontario Court of Justice, Peterborough, on Oct. 11, 2012.

The Ministry of Natural Resources reminds hunters who mistakenly shoot the wrong animal to report the incident immediately. Officers will investigate and take into account all the circumstances.

It is both illegal and unethical to let fish and game spoil.

To report a natural resources violation, including the reporting of any mistakenly shot animals, call 1-877-TIPS-MNR (847-7667) toll-free any time or contact your local ministry office during regular business hours.

You can also call Crime Stoppers anonymously at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).

It's always a good experience to be away from home for me, didn't get very far but spending four days in the city is always a change. This particular time I stayed at my brother John's place on King Street West just minutes from downtown Toronto. I parked my car in the underground which is a sensible thing to do and walked wherever I had to go. The weather co-operated with me and the walk was a treat. I was part of the wave of people either walking in one direction or another. When I did stop and go into a store I made sure to get my direction back on leaving, this is a must for me since I know how easily I get turned around.

My brother was the perfect host when he wasn't working, he knows all the good places to go, and meals are always an adventure. This time I was treated to Japanese food as well as Vietnamese food another time. There are names that I can't pronounce and won't even try and combinations that I have never seen before. The one that sticks in my mind was the "Bao" which is a steamed bun with what I thought was pulled beef inside which after one bite John told me that it was beef - only that it was beef cheeks. I have to say that my appetite wavered for a few seconds then it came back when he reminded me that I also eat hot dogs with heaven knows what they are made of!

John knows all about ordering wine or beer with meals so most times I just say go ahead and you pick it all! This is the easy way since half the time I can't read the menu anyway.

No trip to the city is finished without a visit with Ma who had prepared her own version of unique and wonderful cuisine. In her cooking Ma uses spices that could be anything. She likes to experiment and if she sees a recipe on TV she will duplicate it - her way and of course her way is the right way.

It's a fun night with dancing music, door prizes, best costume prize and a light hot/cold buffet. It's all happening at the Carnarvon Bowl and Restaurant which is the perfect place to stretch those legs and dance the night away.

The joint Knox and St. Mary Magdalene's book discussion group has reconvened.

They met at Knox United Church on Oct. 15 at 10 a.m. to discuss which book would be next.

All are welcome to join the discussion group, men and women.

If you have questions about the group or book being discussed, please call Sheila at 705-766-2407 or Elizabeth at 705-766-0973.

The Lake of Bays Anglican parish council will be meeting on Nov. 20 at 7 p.m. at St. Mary Magdalene's church. For more information, email lakeofbaysanglican@hotmail.com or call Reverend Heather at 705-641-8787. Service time at St. Mary's in Dorset is 11 a.m. on Sundays and all are welcome.

The Dorset Seniors Club welcomes all adults ages 55 and up who would like to meet and socialize with other local and visiting seniors to enjoy a whole range of interesting and fun programs and activities.

The Club House is spacious and conveniently located on Highway 117 just two kilometres west of Dorset. The club boasts a full kitchen, heating and air conditioning, comfortable seating, facilities for pool, table tennis, shuffleboard, television and there is ample parking.

Members meet regularly on Tuesdays from September through June. Programs include pot luck lunches and dinners, cards, bingo, exercise with Wii games, day trips to regional places of interest, monthly Casino Rama trips, outings with Muskoka Travel, seasonal celebrations such as Christmas, Easter and Thanksgiving and other special occasions.

The membership fee is very reasonably priced.

The club is also available to rent to groups of 60 or less for meetings, showers, funeral receptions and birthday parties.

For more information about the club, activities and rentals, call Sandra at 705-766-9483 or Judith at 705-766-9468.

The annual Dorset kids' pumpkin carving party sponsored by the Dorset Lions Club and the Dorset Recreation Centre takes place on Tuesday, Oct. 30 starting at 6 p.m. Come for a hot dog and join the fun.

There will be pumpkins and carving tools for everyone to create fabulous jack-o'-lanterns.

Take your creation home or leave to become part of the decorations for the Halloween party.

This is a fun community activity and not a contest.

For more information, call the recreation centre at 705-766-9968.

The annual kids' Halloween party takes place on Wednesday, Oct. 31 from - new time - 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and includes games, prizes and loaded treat bags provided by the Dorset Lions Club and donations from individuals and local businesses.

The next get together of the Dorset Book Club takes place at the Dorset Branch of the Haliburton County Public Library (located in the Dorset Recreation Centre) on Wednesday, Nov. 7 from 1 to 2 p.m.

All are welcome to come and discuss Cheryl Strayed's book Wild.

Wild is a powerful memoir about a young woman's 1,100-mile solo hike on the Pacific Crest Trail from the Mojave Desert through California and Oregon to Washington State.

For more information about the Dorset Book Club or anything to do with the library, contact Ruth or Sandy at 705-766-9969.

Birthday wishes for Oct. 14 to 20 go out to Dave McKey, Ruth Morris and happy anniversary to Don and Marlene Shortreed. Be sure to give me a call or drop me a line to send wishes to your special loved ones or even you!

So, for all who have birthdays, anniversaries and special occasions this week, have fun on your special day!

If you have items for the Dorset news, please send them to my email address, which is malfano@hotmail.ca or give me a call at home at 705-766-0076.

THE TOWNSHIP OF MINDEN HILLS

IN SEASON, EVERY SEASON PLANNING ADMINISTRATOR

The Township of Minden Hills, the gateway to Haliburton County, a vibrant and bustling community is looking for a full time, permanent, Planning Administrator.

Reporting to the Chief Building Official, this position is responsible for providing a variety of planning support and advisory services to the Township.

Key responsibilities include but are not limited to:

- Conducting research and analysis, obtaining legal and planning advice to provide suitable background information for debate, discussion and decision of the Economic Development Committee, Planning Committee, the Committee of Adjustment and Council.
- Preparation of agendas, minutes, reports, correspondence and background material along with attendance of meetings of the Economic Development Committee, Planning Committee and the Committee of Adjustment.
- Preparation of written reports involving background research and confirmation of compliance with Federal and Provincial legislation for all planning applications received.
- Processing of all applications for road allowance closures, including shore road allowance.
- Processing of all planning related applications such as zoning amendments, OP amendments and minor variance applications.
- Providing oral and written reports to Council, committee members and the public on a variety of planning issues.
- Preparation of related public notices for newspaper insertion and posting on properties.
- Updating and indexing the records of all Zoning and Official Plan Amendments.
- Acting as the secretary to the Economic Development Committee, Planning Committee and the Committee of Adjustment.

Qualifications:

The incumbent must have a thorough understanding of Municipal Planning regulations, by-laws and policies as well as being knowledgeable on the impact of Provincial legislation and policy as it affects the Township. Strong communication skills are an asset. A minimum of three (3) year's experience in a related planning position is required. AMCTO Certified Municipal Officer (CMO) designation is an asset (or willingness to pursue designation). This position is based on thirty-five (35) hours per week. Salary will commensurate with experience and skills.

Qualified applicants are invited to submit a letter of application together with a detailed resume of education and experience by 4:00 pm Wednesday, October 31st, 2012 to:

Legion br. 636

Life is busy at the Royal Canadian Legion Minden Branch 636. Thanks to The Sunday Breakthrough, The Big E and the Highlands Trio that have entertained the public at the Minden Legion on recent Friday evenings and Saturdays. Feedback has been very positive and everyone seems to be having a great time.

Showing the early NFL games on Sundays has also proven to be very popular with a group of Legion members and guests. The early game is televised and food is available. The chili cheese fries were certainly a hit this past Sunday.

Remember that the Minden Legion serves lunch daily from Monday to Friday (our popular hand-dipped fish and hand-cut fries on Fridays for lunch/dinner). Other weekly events include bid euchre Tuesdays at 1 p.m., meat draw Wednesdays over the lunch hour, euchre Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. and darts on Fridays at 7:30 p.m.

All are welcome.

Many thanks to our volunteers who make these lunches and other events happen.

Remembrance Day is coming up and we would again like to thank those volunteers who have signed up to sell poppies.

There are still several spots available and members are encouraged to come into the Legion to sign up for this very important Legion function.
